

First Principles

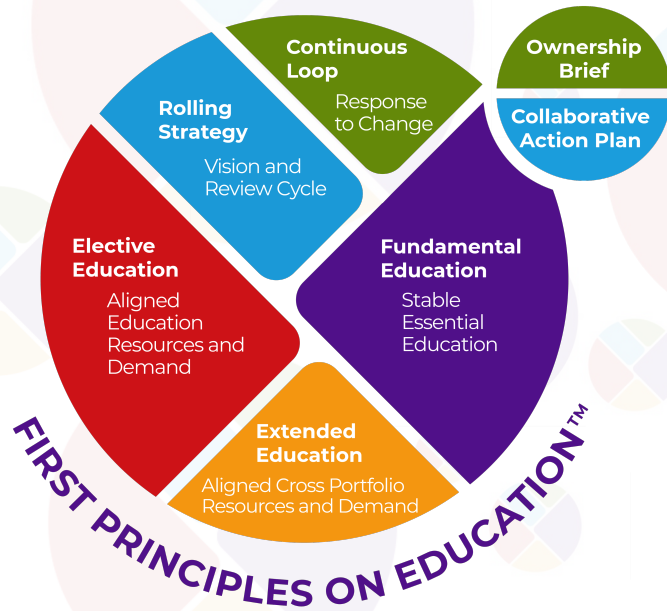

On Education®

Leading Your

Community of Families

A Framework for Becoming A School of Distinction™

Ownership Brief

Everyone in the school community understands and agrees on their roles and responsibilities.

Collaborative Action Plan (CAP)

A community of trust enables collaboration between family, school and community.

Rolling Strategy

The school board, in consultation with the school community, develops a vision and a plan that are understood and agreed.

Continuous Loop

Adjustments are made to the strategy, plans and tactics when change occurs.

Fundamental Education

An agreed explicit and measurable non-negotiable curriculum in English, Maths, Fitness and Physical Education and Western Civilization is equally available to all students.

Elective Education

Students have optional opportunities to apply fundamental skills and knowledge, with school resources available.

Extended Education

Students and families have options to participate in education services offered outside the specified and elective curriculum

“Working with me will be different, challenging, results focused...and a game changer.”

What’s on offer? How is it delivered?

Unpack an idea or a problem until you can go no further. After you’ve returned to basics, you build back up to solve your problem and to innovate. What you’ll find with First Principles On Education® is everything hinges on your community. The what you do and how you do it needs everyone to be on board.

First Principles On Education® Family & Community Leadership

Leading in the Moment

We identify and address the immediate issue that is impeding your organisation’s growth and success. This will come with its own set of challenges. How so? Other stuff will come up. Some issues will need an immediate temporary measure. Other issues can be a springboard for when you are ready for your organisation to showcase your genuine value - a point of difference - one of distinction.

Uncovering the Root Cause: A Deep Dive into Your Organisation

Education is a complex system. We go beyond surface-level solutions, opting for a deep dive to identify the root causes of your immediate challenge. By understanding the 'what' before the 'how,' we lay the groundwork for sustainable improvements.

First Principles: Elevating Best Practice to Better Practice

The First Principles On Education® framework initiates systemic transformation of your organisation. This strategic shift is achieved by a short-range, measurable, rolling strategy that aligns your vision and your organisation’s capabilities with community expectations.

The outcome?

A community that understands and supports your direction; individuals who accept their responsibilities and fulfil them; best practice becoming better practice; a leader that steps away from the systemic status quo and thrives. Your organisation becomes one of 'distinction'.

Principle

Begin with a shared language of agreement

Question

Is everything you communicate to staff, families, other service providers and the community understood?

Opportunity

Let's explore the value of your current communication strategy.

Are you ready to take the lead?

I'm here to get you started.

cheryl@cheryllacey.com

+61 419 518 811

FIRST PRINCIPLES
On Education®